YOUR PATHWAY TO A MOTORSPORT CAREER

Since 2022, the Prototype Cup has been an officially approved series by ACO. The series has been a proven feeder series for the next step in the drivers' careers. For 2027 the following awards will apply:

Secured Le Mans Cup Entry

The 2027 Champion will – courtesy of Michelin – receive the prize of a reserved spot on the 2028 Michelin Le Mans Cup grid.

Michelin Le Mans Cup & ELMS

Four former Prototype Cup drivers compete in the 2026 ELMS championship. Eight drivers who compete in Michelin Le Mans Cup have driven Prototype Cup Europe before.

The Prototype Cup Europe is one of the feeder series for Sportscar racing!

SUCCESS STORIES

Numerous drivers have made their way from the Prototype Cup to other renowned series! Proving that the Prototype Cup is your pathway to success!

Antti Rammo, Trophy Champion 2024, now ELMS driver.

Antti Rammo is an Estonian driver who achieved major success in the Prototype Cup by winning the Trophy Championship in 2024. This earned him a spot in the ELMS team of DKR Engineering. Ever since he scored several podiums and a win in the series, he is known for being one of the fastest FIA bronze drivers to compete in LMP3.

Max van der Snel, Junior Champion 2023, now LMP2 driver

Max van der Snel is a Dutch driver who took his maiden win in LMP3 racing during the 5th round of the season at Assen. He managed to win the race together with his father Mark van der Snel. After winning the Junior Championship he stepped up to the Michelin Le Mans Cup with his own team. After two years he managed to secure a seat in the ELMS with Eurointernational. By the end of 2026 he made his debut in LMP2 during the Road to America round in IMSA.

Ralf Schumacher, Former F1 Driver David Schumacher, Current Ford GT3 Factory driver

Ralf Schumacher needs no introduction. He has chosen our platform to compete together with his son David Schumacher. They were the only lineup to ever top all sessions during a race weekend, plus setting the fastest lap during both races. This achievement has not been matched ever since. This has been the last race Ralf Schumacher did since his 12-year sabbatical. David Schumacher has stepped up into GT3 racing and is now a Ford Racing Factory Driver.

SUCCESS STORIES

Numerous drivers have made their way from the Prototype Cup to other renowned series!

Keanu Al Alzahri, Alpine F1 Junior Driver, FIA Formula 3,

Keanu made ways after winning a driver shootout with Mühlner Motorsport. The youngster scored a podium during 7 out of the 12 races. After this fruitful season in the Prototype Cup he switched to single seaters to win the Spanish F4 in the following year. During the winter of 2026 he won the Eurocup 3 Winter series and currently sits in P3 in the main Eurocup-3 championship. He proves that the Prototype Cup is a perfect steppingstone for young drivers, in prototype racing as well as single seaters.

Gabriela Jílková, now Porsche Formula E development driver

Gabriela Jílková made an impressive debut in the Prototype Cup. She managed to score several podiums including a maiden win in the series at Zandvoort 2023. After this impressive achievement she became part of the Porsche Motorsport Development program. Now she is one of the development drivers for the Porsche Formula E team.

Courtney Crone, Haas F1 Academy Driver,

Courtney competed in the Prototype Cup with Gebhardt Motorsport back in 2023. As one of most promising female drivers from the USA, she managed to secure a seat in the Haas F1 Academy program for 2025.
